

THEODORE SOFA

Modular elegance and uncompromising comfort

Theodore sofa by CPRN boldly captures the essence of contemporary living. Its modular structure allows for endless configurations, naturally adapting to any space and need, from expansive living rooms to more intimate settings.

With elegant echoes of the 1970s reinterpreted through a contemporary lens, Theodore brings back the refined memory of unmistakable lines: generous volumes, soft shapes, and an idea of comfort inspired by the convivial spirit of that era, updated for today's interiors.

Sofa description:

An architectural, horizontal composition, raised on discreet feet, that seems to shape the room with the same effortless clarity as a plinth defining a space.

The rounded armrests soften the system's linearity, adding a gentle, almost couture-like gesture. The modular composition, featuring a side chaise longue, evokes freedom and conviviality for a living space meant to be truly lived in.

The generous, almost platform-like seats are defined by full, regular volumes: soft yet compact cushions with a crisp, tailored profile rest on deep, inviting upholstery, designed for laid-back comfort. The modular composition, with a chaise longue on one side, suggests freedom and conviviality, creating a living space made to be enjoyed.
